When Couple Meets In Marriage Agency

The following scene at a matrimonia agency in Paris, the manager of which arranges desirable marriages for a stated fee:

Everything has been arranged; photographs have been exchanged, financial matters settled, and the agent is about to bring together for the first time the Baron de Saint-Josaphat and the Countesse de Folbiche. The baron has a chauteau on the Garonne, and a bank in Asiatic Turkey. The countess possesses $2,000,000 in her own right, and a foundry on the Nava.

They meet, salute profoundly, and then stare at each other.

The Countess: "Well, I declare! If it isn't the fellow I saw pawning his watch vesterady."

The Baron: "---! It's the woman ho was soaking her bracelet yester-Together (pointing to the agent):

deal of money is seeking investment in the local utilities and bank stocks. The Clearing House Association and the committee from the joint commitee of the Bankers' Association of the District of Columbia held a meeting in the Clearing House rooms yesterday afternoon and both sides listened to arguments for and against an ex-aminer, as has been proposed heretofore by the Bankers' Association.

There seems to be a feeling in the Clearing House that inasmuch as the national banks of the city are logic-ally the institutions to handle the commercial business of the city, that commercial business of the city, that they should have a great deal to say in governing the local examinership. It is believed now by several bankers who were present yesterday that a good working plan will be proposed by the Clearing Hobse Association, whereby an examiner may be appointed to examine all the institutions of the city, this examiner to be under the direction of a good representation from the national banks. sentation from the national banks. trust companies and savings banks. The Clearing House Association holds another meeting this afternoon. when it is thought a very satisfactory plan will be submitted.

Right Kind of Clothes For Coldest Weather

When Ralph Denmore, who was assisting in staging "The Confession." was giving instructions one day to the actors as to what they should wear during the snowstorm in the first act, he said: "I want every one to wear their heaviest overcoats during this scene, as it is supposed to be the coldest night in twenty years. Now don't forget this."

Mr. Delmore repeated this order several times to impress it on the minds of the actors, when one of them, undoubtedly new to the stage and who had no edly new to the stage and who had n lines at all to speak, approached him.
"I have no overcoat, Mr. Delmore but suppose I wear my heavy flannel underwear?"—Kansas City Star.

THE

Remington

Typewriter is the Perpetual Pioneer

The No. 10 and No. 11 Visible Remington Models are the latest expressions of Remington leadership. They represent the sum total of all typewriter achievement-past and present.

They contain every merit that the Remington has always had and every merit that any writing machine has ever had.

They contain, in addition, new and fundamental improvements that no typewriter has ever had; among them the First Column Selector, the First Built-in Tabulator and the First Key-Set Tabulator. The Model 11 with Wahl Mechanism is also the First Adding and Subtracting Typewriter. These improvements are the latest contributions to typewriter progress, and they are Remington contributions—every one.

The Remington, the original pioneer in the typewriter field, is the present day pioneer in all new developments of the writing machine.
